Hyland Software Awards Information Access Systems, Inc. with Platinum and Diamond Support Honors

Recognition salutes partners that help organizations operate more efficiently through technology, such as the enterprise content management (ECM) software suite, OnBase®

CLEVELAND - March 18th, 2009 – Businesses of all sizes and types from around the world are tightening their budgetary belts. Spending decisions are being based primarily on two questions: “What’s the return going to be – and how fast will I see it?” This spend-to-save mantra has led more and more businesses to choose OnBase. To get the most out of their investment, fast, many are choosing vendors with proven records of customer service and support; vendors like Florida based Information Access Systems, Inc. For consistently delivering exceptional customer care, technical knowledge and support, Information Access Systems, Inc. was recently honored at Hyland Software’s Team OnBase Conference as a Platinum and Diamond support winner.

“It’s critical for businesses to select vendors that are committed to their success,” said Brenda Kirk, Vice President of U.S. sales for Hyland Software. “The best vendors, like Information Access Systems, work to understand company goals, are always available as a resource and have the ability to grow and adapt to business needs. Where Information Access Systems also excels is choosing proven technology that solves specific problems, helping its customers to do more with less. Their success is a key part of the overall success of Hyland Software, and for that, we are honored to recognize their hard work in 2008.”
